

Festive Illustrations For CHILDREN

805.314.1657 abe@abegurvin.com

For quite some years now, I have enjoyed creating illustrations for numerous children's projects of all sorts, from storybooks and textbooks to posters for learning centers to packaging, games and advertisements. You can count on me to produce for you custom illustrations that will enchant, educate, entertain and inspire. And do so with considerable creativity and enthusiasm, along with seasoned skills and sensibilities. I am versatile and can work in quite a wide variety of media, styles, subjects and genres, as the occasion warrants. I will be using traditional, digital, or a combination of both to achieve the desired result. I can be in touch with you by e-mail as the work progresses to completion, so you can observe and comment upon it as we proceed. I meet or beat any deadline, and I am both easygoing and fun to collaborate with. I've never encountered any project too grandiosely complex nor infinitesimally small, I've done them all, and with great pleasure. I will fulfill your expectations, and then some. I'm looking forward to your inquiry, to discuss your needs, and then to roll up my sleeves and get the job done.
